PAMOUS PERSONS AND PLACES. By N. PARKER WILLIAM. 1200., pp. 492 Charles Scribbor.

12me., pp. 492 Charles Serthaer.

This is a new volume of the collected edition of Willis's Prose Works, containing a portion of the " Pencillings by the Way," with additional papers devoted to sketches of distinguished cotemporaries, including Kossuth, Jepny Lind, Lady Blessington, and others. With the exception of "Letters from under a Bridge," we think this voludie presents a more charming specimen of Willia's unique style, than any of his productions in prose. His descriptions of British scenery have a sharp, delicate finish, spite of their careless air, which almost conveys the impression of landscape painting. But even these are surpassed in certainty of effect by his free, dashing delineations of society and manners, which, under the appearance of the most rapid improvisation, contain that dainty curiousness of phrase, which from any pen but that of Willis himself, becomes affected and ludierous. He is master of his own style, which has neither prototype in English literature, nor successful imitatore. Every attempt to tread in his footsteps has been a conspicuous failure. He has created a manner of composition, in which he is the sole writer. His counterfeits are at once detected, and they are all beneath contempt. This is proof positive of the falsity of the charge, with which Willis has sometimes been assailed, that he is a merely superficial stylist. True, he paints the surface-this is his forte-no one compares with him here-but his pictures are charged with a subtle nicety of thought, a peculiar fineness of perception and discrimination, which no mere word-painter can attain. Certainly, Willis is not a metaphysician. He would recoil from such a hard impeachment in terror. But if, instead of making it his business to reproduce the outside of things, he had shown a turn for mental analysis, his quick sense of hidden analogies. and his power of taking an object to pieces, to restore it in a form of admirable synthesis, would have stood him in good stead; and the letter-writer of Idlewild might have been a second Thomas Aquinas. For our part, we are gled the fates forbade such an odd consummation, and vouchsafed a poet to catch the fleeting lights of the external, instead of a philosopher to explore the obscure depths of the interior.

ROUTLEDGE'S American Handbook is a convenient manual for travelers in the United States, containing descriptions of the principal cities and towns with the different routes from New-York to all parts of the Union. Summer resorts, watering places, localities for hunting and fishing are noticed; and a portion of the work is de-voted to advice for mechanics, and emigrants seeking lands. No work of this kind is free from errors, but we do not perceive that the present contains an unusual share. (George Routledge & Co.)

Memoir and Sermons of Joseph Harrington is an interesting memorial of a distinguished Unitarian clergyman, who died about two years since at San Francisco. He was a man of an original intellect and noble character. The memoir was prepared by an intimate personal friend of Mr. Harrington, and shows no fault, in our opinion, but the too great reserve in which it speaks of virtues of one of the most excellent men of his day. mo., pp. 276. SQUIRREL HUNTS.

ASHTABULA COUNTY, OHIO.—Last week the township of Jefferson gave Ashtabula and Conneaut a challenge for a squirrel hunt; 20 from each place to hunt one day, and the party having the lowest count, to pay for a supper at the party having the lowest due challenge alone, (Conthe party having the lowest count, to pay for a supper at Tyler's. Ashtabula accepted the challenge alone, (Conneaut declining,) and the count took place on the 19th, giving Jefferson 2,219—Ashtabula, 2,079. Ashtabula pays for the supper, but intimates that if their side-arms had been equal to those of Jefferson, the result might have SQUIRREL HUNT .- On Saturday last the sportsmen of Squiere. Hont.—On Saturday last the sportsmen of our village turned out for a squirrel hunt—there being seven on a side. At an early hour guns were to be heard in every direction, but there sounds soon died away as the hunters spread out from the village. At evening the hunters again returned, each displaying a fine string of scalps as the result of the day's labor. The hunters under T. Green first counted and had brought in 823. Mr. G. having as his part bagged 228 by the rules for counting. The other side, under the lead of G. W. Whallon, had taken 826, and were deelered victorious, when the whole party in the side, under the lead of G. W. Whallon, had taken 896, and were declared victorious, when the whole party in the finest spirits, repaired to Johnson's Hotel, where they partook of an excellent supper. (Mayville (N. Y.) Sentinel.

A VETERAS GONE.—The Allegos (Mich.) Record chronicles the death of Stephen Prett, in the town of Otsego, in that county, at the age of 90 years. The Record says:

"The deceased was a venerable revolutionary pensioner, having served as a volunteer in that war during two terms of six months each. He lived with the wife he leaves behind, and who is now 84 years old, for 68 years. Mr. P. was a regularly ordained minister of the gospel, an exemplary Christian and an honorable, useful man.

FIRE MARSHAL'S INVESTIGAT, ONS BE-FORE THE FOLICE JUSTICA'S.

FIRE IN SULTON-ST.

On the evening of the 28th of July a fire broke a t in the boot and shoe store of John Beville, at No. 105 Feb. 'on-st. The very rapid manner in which it burnt led to many surmises as to its origin. The evidence before the 1 ire Marshal showed that Mr. Beville and his wife were A e last persons in the store: they locked the door, and in less ten minutes after they left, the store was discovered in a blaze, and by the time the firemen arrived the flames had spread throughout the store, burst out and endangered the Sun buildings. It was further shown that Mr. Boville had been drinking that day and was under the influence of liquor at the time he locked up the store, and that on entering the store a second time to get some money from his deek, it is preamed that by he carelessness he must have dropped a lighted match by the deek, which kindled up after his having and set the store on fire. It was at first attributed to the gas, but the investigation proved that the gas was not the cause of the fire. Mr. Beville was insured to the amount of $2,000; $1,500 in the Metropelis Insurance Company, and $500 in the New York City Insurance Company, which fully covered his loss.

FIRE IN SIXTH AVENUE.

On the same evening a fire took place in the store window of Wallace & Scholes, dry goods, No. 268 Sixth-av. The evidence in this case showed that in all probability the fire was occasioned by the goods in the window, neither of which had glass covering to protect the goods from the fiames, and a draft from the door is supposed to have blown the goods into the lights, and thus caused the fire. Mr. Scholes was in the store at the time, and can give no other account of the origin of the fire than it took in the window. His eleft, James J. Batter, could only testify had been drinking that day and was under the influence other account of the origin of the fire than it took in the window. His clerk, James J. Baxter, could only testify to the goods taking fire in the window; any further than that, he could not say, but gives as his opinion that the goods in the window must have taken fire from the gas burners. The firm was fully insured in the Home Insurance Co., and Beckman Insurance Co. Damage about

On the 12th inst. a fire broke out in the liquor store of John Bell, No. 321 Third-av., corner of Twenty-fifth-st. This fire bore the evidence of incendiarism, and the carious manner in which the fire had been kindled lead to considerable susplcion. The testimony in the case before the Marshal showed that a boy named John Conklin, at 104 o'clock, went to alcep in the rear part of the store; under the counter there were three holes made through the floor for the purpose of admitting the Croton water pipe and the beer pipe from the cellar. The cellar door was unfastened, and from the cellar some person had taken paper or razs saturated with camphene or turper time, pushed these through these boles to the store floor under the counter and then set them on fire, and between 1 and 2 o clock the following morning the fire was discovered in the store by some persons in the avenue. The boy when woke up was nearly sufficiated by the smoke, and escaped through the entry door leading to the yard. The fire burnt the counter on the inside, and was spreading around the store when discovered. Mr. Bell, the owner of the store, and he left it about 19 o clock and did not return. He was fully insured on his stock to the amount of $500, in the Peter Cooper Insurance Company. He also testified that he fell satisfied the fire was the work of design. How the incendiary became nequainted with the holes in the floor is the most remarkable part about the affair. The Insurance Company settled the loss, which was but trifling, and canceled the policy.

PIRE IN ESSEN-T.

On the afternoon of the 16th inst., a fire broke out in the paint shop of Joseph Isaacson, No. 5s Essex-st. The Company settled the loss, which was but trifling, and canceled the policy.

FIRE IN ESSEA-ST.

On the afternoon of the 16th inst., a fire broke out in the paint shop of Joseph Isaacson, No. 58 Essex-st. The evidence showed that the boy William Kern, employed in the store, had been ordered to warm some oil, and in doing so he upset the pot in the fire-place, and the oil took fire on the floor. The flames did some damage to brushes and paints, amounts, according to Mr. Isaacson's estimate, to nbout $400. The loss was fully covered by insu anoe in the St. Marks Insurance Co. to the amount of $*00.

From the testimony the fire appeared to have been the result of accident or carelessness on the part of the boy in upsetting the heated oil.

FIRE IS AVENUE 5.

On the night of the 16th instant a fire was discovered in a fancy store kept by Leopold Seldner, at No. 38 Avenue.

A. This fire is one of those remarkable cases which the occupants of the premises esmod assign or give any decided opinion as to its origin. The evidence, as shown by affidavit before the Marshal, sets forth that Mr. Seldner was absent from the City at the time of the fire; that his sister and his wife were the only persons left in charge of the store: that on the night in question the sister closed the store at about 90 clock, and put out the gas, at the request of Mrs. Seldner; that about 100 clocks he retired to bed and went to sleep; Mrs. Seldner remained up with some friends, talking at the entry door, until about 110 clocks; she then came to the room rear of the store and went to bed; shortly after retiring to bed, the sister was aroused by a croaking noise which came from the direction of the store; Mrs. Seldner got up, saying she thought; it was a mouse in a trap, and on opening the door she discovered the store and reap, and on opening the door she discovered the store on fire. An alarm was given, and by the aid of the neighbors the flames were extinguished, with a few buckets of water. The fire originated on the shelving, directly among

There could be no opinion given by Mr. Seldner or the sister as to how the fire occurred.

FIRE IN WEST BROADWAY.

Yesterday afternoon, about 51 o'clock, a fire broke out in the brick building No. 103 West Broadway, lower part occupied by Mrs. Leary as a confectionary shop, and Michael Hynard, builder, upper part by Albert Weber as a piano-forte manufactory.

The fire originated from some cause not yet discovered, in the lower part of the building, and in consequence of the large amount of inflamma le material about the premi ses the flames spread with astonishing rapidity, and soon · burst out of the roof. The firemen of the district promptly responded to the alarm and soon subdued the ames, not, however, before the interior of the building, with its contents, was lalmost entirely destroyed. The sames extended to the actioning building, No. 106, occupied by John Dixon as a such and blind manufactory, but through the exertions of the fremen the fire was here confined to the third story. The building in the rear of No. 103, occupied by Mrs. Leary as a dwelling, and by Mr. Welch as a stable and dwelling, was censiderably damaged. The losses and insurances are as follows, as near as we could ascertain.

Loss of of Mr. Weber about $6,000: insured $800 in the St. Marks and $1,200 in the Lenox Insurance Cos. Mr. Weber had seven pianos finished, eight partly finished, and eleven in the frame. The workmen, Messis. Sprout, Prince, Lyon, Wise, Whitemer, Walker and Mitchel, lost about $100 each. No

Mr. Hyward estimates his loss at about $400. Insured in the Union Insurance Company $1,800.

Loss of Mr. Dixon about $800. Insured $1,800 in the North River Insurance Company.

Loss of Mrs. Leary about $200. No insurance Mrs. Beatley, who also occupied a portion of this front building for a confectionary store, sustained damage to amount of about $400. No insurance. Loss of Mr. Welch $200. No insurance.

About 7 o'clock last evening a fire broke out in a twostory frame building on Adams-st., ewned by Messrs. Herrick & Scudder, and occupied by William McNiff, Francis Kells and another family. The house adjoining, occupied by George Rome, also caught, and both houses were demaged to the extent of about $500. The fire originated on the roof, supposed from the sparks of a foundery in the INPAMOUS FRAUD UPON IMMIGRANTS.

A few days since we published an account of the manner in which immigrants on their arrival at this port are swindled by immigrant agents, runners, boarding-house keepers, &c. Several cases of the kind were brought before the Mayor yesterday, and one of them being of an argravated character, we publish it. It appears that on Friday about thirty-five immigrants arrived in the sh'n Eugene, and the same day landed at the foot of Canal-st., where they were quickly surrounded and besc. by a gan; of runners said to be in the employ of Kind nuller & Locaber, emigrant forwarders, who, notwithstanding they were forbid by the immigrants insisted on conveying their luggage (22 boxes) to the store of their employers. and did so. On the following morning the enigrants who intended to take their boxes to their lodging house, No. 2

Albanyst., called at the storehouse of Palamuller &

Leesher and saked for them, but they were teld that before they were given up they must pay fifty cents on each. They refused to accede to this imposition, and appealed Point. The passengers were all safely landed.

On the arrival of the officers the clerk of AFFRAT SETWEEN PENALES. -- Two women, named the firm denied having made the claim, but as soon as they Mary Hasting and — McBride, got into a fight yesterday left they renewed their demand. The immigrants had pure at the house of the latter, in Forty-first st., near Fourthchased tickets for the West on the train which left on the afternoon of the same day, but owing to the detention of their baggage were obliged to miss the train and remain in the City, thus entailing upon themselves extra expenses, which they were little able to bear. They finally, without appealing again to the Police, concluded to pay the demend, and old so, after which their boxes were given up. Three of them, however, were determined to acint the authorities with the imposition that had been practised upon them, and accordingly yesterday went before the Mayor and made affidavits setting forth the circumstances. One of the members of the forwarding firm was brought up, and the Mayor required him to refund the money he had received, and to pay the emigrants the amount of the extra expense they had been put

THE BREVOORT HOUSE .- In the early part of the coming month, a new and spacious establishment to be known as the "Brevoort Hense," will be opened on the corner of Fifth-av. and Eigth st., under the proprietorship of Mr. Judson of the New-York Hotel. The immediate management of the house will be under the charge of Mr. Sanderson, late of the College Hotel.

The building is of brick, five stories high, and presents a front on either street of one hundred feet. The cappings and lintels of the windows and the cornice surmounting the top of the structure are of white marble clab rately carved. The front on either street is painted a French gray color, giving the exterior of the building a light and airy appearance. The main entrance is on the Avenue, while on Eighth-st. is a private entrance for ladies. In the barement is the bar-room, reading-room, private sup-per rooms, &c.—On the first floor, which is reached by a flight of steps, are arranged parlors for ladies and gentlemen, suites of rooms, dining room, office, &c. The par lors and suites of rooms on this floor are elegantly furnished with velvet carpets, lace and brocade window curtains and resewood furniture. The office is located on one side of the hall, about twenty-five feet from the entrance, and the dining-room is situate at the end of the building. This room is 96 feet in length by about 25 in width.

The second floor is arranged in suites of rooms, and beautifully finished, with velvet carpetings of rich patterns, lace and damask window curtain and resewood furniture. &c. In many of the rooms are baths, closets, &c. The third floor is arranged similar to the floor below, and similarly furnished, excepting the furniture, which is of managany in the bedrooms. The fourth and fifth stories are more especially designed for the accommodation of either old or young bachelors. The corpetings are velvet and Brussels, and the furniture enameled or of the cottage pattern. The balls and rooms throughout the house are painted in fresco, the work in the lower rooms being of the most beautiful description. The house is lighted throughout with gas, and on each floor are bathing-rooms, water-closets, &c. By far the most elegant room in the house is the dining-room, the walls and ceiling of which are beautifully frescoed and ornamented with paintings. Exclusive of the public spartments, there are one hundred and three rooms in the The house will be kept on a plan combining both the American and European systems—a table d'hote and meals provided at all hours of the day. In all its appointments, this establishment will doubtless be one most comfortable hotels in the City.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDEST .- On Saturday night last Mr. James Edminston, cattle drover of Ross County, Ohio, was killed on the New-York Central Railroad, near Schenectady, while bringing a drove of cattle to this City. It appears that the Cahoose car in which the drovers were riding had been injured in a recent collision, and the in mates beginning to doubt its safety, left it and got upon the roofs of the freight cars, where they remained for some time, but feeling very cold they all returned to the Caose save Edminston. After some time, as he did not make his appearance, his companions clambered over the roofs to look for him. They found him in a state of insensibility, and before the train reached Albany he died. It is supposed that he attempted to rise and was struck by one of the bridges. A subscription was taken up at the Ball's Head vesterday to defray the expense of transporting his remains to his relatives in Ohio.

A lad 17 years of age, named - Ryer, was killed instantly at a o'clock yesterday morning, by being crushed between one of the New-Haven and one of the Third-av. care, at the corner of Broome-st. and the Bowery. His remains were taken to the 14th Ward Police Station, where an inquest was held upon them by Coroner Hilton. The evidence went to show that one of the N. H. care had got off the track, that deceased at the time of the accident was jumping on and off the step of the Third-av. car, and that he was warned of the danger of doing so. The jury rendered a verifiet of death by being crushed between a New-Haven and a Third-av. "car, the result of his own carelessness." deceased resided with his mother at Yorkville.

> A Good Loan for any Engine.—The engine Vulcan took out of this City east on Thursday last a train of forty-six ears, loaded with freight and live stock, being an aggregate of about 420 tims, the largest and beaviest train ever sent from this point. She went through on time. The Vulcan is from the works of Meeers, Rogers, Retchum & Grosvenor, Paverson, New Jersey, of about medium size, and is in her like a perfect model of strength. Her mete, the Vesuvins, is from the same works, and of the same capacity. Another very fair load: The Buffalo Commercial of Tuesday last says the State Line Railroad brought over their track from Erie last evening 715 head of cattle. Of these 221 were left at Dunkirk, and 493 came through to Buffalo. The train consisted of 44 cars, and was drawn by the Vesuvius. This we think is doing pretty well. Onsequence of Man. Lorents.—The remains of Maj. Charles Loring, arrived to this city on Sunday night last from New York, and the funeral solemnities took place from the Episcopal Charch on Monday. The burial service was conducted by he Rev. O. A. Miller, Rector of the Parish, and was followed by an address referring in tuching and appropriate terms to the melanchely circumstances under which Maj. Loring's life was so ruthlessly and brutally taken. We observed among the saddest of the mou sing friends assembled his manly little son and the face of a young Californ's Lefian had who accompanied Mrs. Loring on her recent visit to this place, who seemed to realize with intense grid the sad event which had deprived him of a kind protector. The remains were followed to the tamily burial place, by a large concourse. Mr. Loring came to this place when a child, and has principally resided here until a few years since he removed to California. His gentlemanly bearing, affability of manner, and the kindness of his disposition, endeared him to all who enjoyed the pleasure of his acquaintance. His suiden demise has cast a gloomy sadness which time alone can alleviate. At the time of his death he held the office of Receiver of Public Moneys at Benicia, and was about returning to California from a brief visit to this State when his life was taken. The full cond dement of members in their uniform had hold of the ropes, and were preceded by the Brooklyn Band. In the even ug the Company received their friends at the house.

Cusher or Iscist. Justice Blatchly examined a man amed Thomas Murths at the County Jail on Saturday, who had been arrested on the complaint of his daughter, Mary Ann, a girl not quite fourteen years of age, who charges him with having violated her person a number of times within a year past. A servant who resided in the house testifies to a state of facts which can hardly leave a doubt as to the truth of the girl's statement. The examination has not concluded. Another charge of a still more revolting nature stands against him.

PANILY PROSTRATED BY LIGHTNING —During the thunder storm of Friday evening last Mr. Moore and his family, while riding in a wagon new Jamaica, were prestrated and injured by lightning. The electric fluid struck a tree just as they were passing it, and the shock stunned the results of them were able to speak for fifteen minute after the occurrence. They were taken to their homes by a gestleman who happened to be near the place at the time. The tree was split into fragments, and a piece of it was thrown with such violence against the horse's leg that the fiesh was torn off. The animal was otherwise seriously hort.

SERIOUS ACCIDING THOM JUNESS AFFIRM A FORM BOAL.—A man named Hammond, who resides in Hamdton-av., attempted to gain the ferry boat a few evenings since by jumping, but struck against the fenders with his breast and fell back into the water. A ladder was procured, at d Officers Toole and the ferry hands succeeded in getting him out and took him home, where he has since been confined to his bed, and fears are entertained that the injury may prove fatal. He has a wife and two children.

Drowsed while Bathing.—Yesterday a lad who was bathing at the foot of 27th-st., Gowanus, was accidentally drewned. He appeared to be about 16 years of age. His clothes, which were all found in a skiff, consisted of a shirt, white pants and straw hat. The initials "W. H. P." were on them. Officer Worrell of the Eighth Ward received the body and notified the Coroner.

to the health of Newark:

The extreme mortality of our city surprises all who have been accustomed to regard it as one of the healthiest cities in the country. We have for years been without any correct information in this respect, but now the complete and thorough returns of the City Clerk give us intelligence which demands something more than common attention. We learn from them that in proportion to its population, this city has suffered during the past summer beyond any other in the country, and that now the deaths show a greater proportion here than in New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore or Boston. We have prepared the following table of the number of interments reported, by which the proportion of deaths in each city may be determined:

| Deaths | Doublation | Ratio of Deaths | New York | Philadelphia | Boston and The deaths for New York | Philadelphia | Boston and Philadelphia |

It will be seen by the report of the Clerk of the Com-It will be seen by the report of the Clerk of the Com-mon Council that the total number of interments during the last week was one hundred and fifteen, of which thirty-one were deaths by cholera. Fifty two of this number were adults and sixty-three children. In addition to the cholera cases reported there are nineteen deaths by chole-ra infantum, six from diarrhea, six from dyssentery, and two from inflammation of the bowels.

The disease manifested itself in the Fifth Ward on Sanday in an unusual manner. For some days past the epidemic has prevailed in Oxford-st, and its vicinity, but on Sunday it broke out with renewed force, and in one neighborhood there were fourteen cases, two of whom died in the afternoon, and several others were then considered beyond all hope. The houses are here clustered together in a crowded, filthy locality, the rooms are badly ventilated, and the whole place serves but to increase and foster disease and wretchedness. To this locality the attention of the Health Committee was directed some weeks since, and every effort has been strentously made to stay the progress of the disease. With a view to this a temporary hospital was there established, and every arrangement—made for a successful treatment of the crase, but the dread of the hospital on the part of the ignorant residents has prevented its usefulness to any considerable extent. Where the patients could not, by reason of the interference of friends, be taken there, their condition has been alleviated as far as possible. We are informed by one of the Health Councitee that in one house in that locality vesterday there were three children is one bed with cholera, and in another house there were four cases, one of which number had already proved fatal.

In Newark on Saturday, out of 24 deaths eight were by cholera; on Sunday there were ten deaths, of which four were by cholera; and yesterday, up to noon, six deaths were reported, of which three were from cholera.

were reported, of which three were from choiera.

DEATH OF JUDGE ANDRUSS AND WIFE.—Caleb H. Andruss, for many years Justice of the Peace in Newark, and for five years a Judge of the Essex County Court, died of cholera at his residence in that city on Saturday morning at 4 o'clock. His wife died of the same disease at 11 o'clock on Sunday night. Mr. Andruss was attacked with diarrhea on Friday morning, but did not pay much attention to it—being subject to it. He presided at the hearing of a case during the forenoon; after which he rode to the Mount Pleasant Cemercy to select a lot in which a grandchild of his that had just died was to be interred. At 4 P. M., on Friday, Mr. A. grew alarmingly worse, and physicians were summoned, but it was was too late. He was interred on Saturday with his grandchild, for whom he had the day previously selected a grave. The funeral of Mrs. Andruss took piace yesterday afternoon. Mr. Andruss was the eldest son of the late Gen. Isaac Andruss. He was a graduate of Princeton College, and studied for the Bar in the office of the Hon. Theodore Prelinghuyson, but never pursued his profession, though his intelligence THE WEAKEST INVALID OR YOUNGEST CHILD may safely use Drawl can't be found for Feyns and Accr. The Storm.—The Treaton Gazette gives the following account of the storm in that city:

"About 3i o'clock on Saturday night we had a most severe storm, of but hert duratione, but accompanied by sharp lightning and heavy claps of thunder. Some of the streets, particularly Stockton, were much damaged by the water. The stack at the machine shop of Bottom. Tiffone & Co., was struck by lightning, and an aperture was reads on the west side about eight or ten feet long and five i wice, near the top. The lightning was probably attracte by the iron frame on the top of the stack. The slate roof of the building below was very seriously damaged by the falling bricks. The tin gutters were also torn off. It was a great miracle that the wood work in the third and fourth stories did not take fire.

The fire seen in Pennsylvania, and which created an alarm in our streets, is said to have been the house of Geo. Justice, about two miles above Trenton. Mr. Justice occupies what is known as the Cadwalinder Farm, and the house has been recently erected. It was struck by lightning.
